Georgia CEO Elected Vice Chairman of US Chamber of Commerce Board
June, 2017

James E. Stephenson, chairman and CEO of Austell, Ga.-based Yancey Bros. Co., succeeds Thomas J. Wilson, chairman and CEO of The Allstate Corp., who assumed the role of chairman. Stephenson will serve a one-year term.

“We are pleased to welcome Jim, an innovative leader in the transportation and construction field, to this leadership position with the U.S. Chamber,” Thomas J. Donohue, president and CEO of the U.S. Chamber, said. “Jim has successfully led Yancey Bros. for more than two decades, expanding the scope of operations while staying true to the company’s long-standing legacy of service to its customers. Jim has also been a tireless advocate for pro-business policies at the state and federal level, particularly when it comes to improving our nation’s infrastructure. We look forward to the perspective his experience will bring to our board.”

Stephenson has served as chairman and CEO of Yancey Bros., which bills itself as the nation’s oldest Caterpillar dealer, since 1994. Under his leadership, the company opened the Cat Rental Store, which rents construction and building equipment for short-term projects. Stephenson purchased the dealership covering the south half of Georgia to expand Yancey Bros. Co.’s operations across the entire state.

We would like to congratulate the winners of a $50 Visa card for completing the Evaluation Survey for the 2017 Annual Midyear meeting.

They are: Mike McClure, Femco and Greg Carroll, Tractor & Equipment.

In order to assist GCAA in continuing to make improvements to the Annual meeting, it is important that we receive feedback from the attendees.

Thank you to all who participated in the meeting, and to those who took the time to complete the survey.
