Weekly Legislative Report #12

Adjournment Sine Die, April 2, 2019

The 2019 session of the Georgia General Assembly came to a close about midnight on April 2nd as the House and Senate Majority Leaders each made a motion in their respective chambers to “Adjourn Sine Die,” the Latin term meaning adjournment without a date set for the next meeting. By tradition, there was a loud, unanimous voice vote of “NO!” followed by the presiding officer declaring, “The ayes clearly have it,” then banging the gavel to close the session. Members then tossed reams of colored paper bills and amendments into the air to celebrate the occasion.

Gov. Brian Kemp signed 21 bills on the last day of the session, a pace far ahead of his predecessors, who signed very few bills until after the session was over. Kemp has until May 12 to sign or veto passed legislation, or it becomes law without his signature.

Stats of Interest

House has 180 members

Bills Introduced: 741
Resolutions Introduced: 873
HB and HR Won Final Passage: 130

Senate has 56 members

Bills Introduced: 279
Resolutions Introduced: 534
SB and SR Won Final Passage: 104

(Bills carry the force of law and must receive agreement from each chamber on the exact same language. Resolutions, on the other hand, “urge” action, recognize people/groups, name roads/bridges, create study committees/commissions, etc. without putting language in the official code of Georgia. The House and Senate often pass resolutions affecting only their own body. Such resolutions do not travel to the other chamber for approval. Proposed constitutional amendments are completely different. They require a two-thirds majority in each house, bypass the Governor’s desk, and go directly to the November general election ballot for the people’s final determination.)

Here are some highlights from this year's session.

The Budget

The budget is the only bill that the General Assembly is Constitutionally required to pass each year. The FY 2020 appropriations bill came in at $27.5 billion in state dollars. When you add in federal spending on various programs, the state will be responsible for spending a total of $48 billion. It passed. (The Governor has the option to veto specific lines in the budget.)

Waivers for the Medicaid Program

A bill requested by the Governor will allow the Department of Community Health to apply to the federal Office of CMS for waivers to rules governing the Medicaid program. Run by the state, funding for the Medicaid program is shared by the federal government on a 2-1 ratio with the state. The waivers, if approved, would allow Georgia to re-write some of those rules, and impose new mandates such as requiring Medicaid recipients to work or be in school. Gov. Kemp has already signed SB 103, and the legislature appropriated $1.5 million to contract with consultants to help prepare two waiver applications.

Certificate of Need

CON legislation has been fought over for more than a decade. A compromise bill passed this year, but certainly didn't end debate over the concept. The legislation raised the dollar amount of new construction (or equipment purchase) that triggers a CON application. It also limits those who can appeal against another's CON application to facilities within a 35 mile radius of the new construction. And, it significantly increased the amount of financial transparency required of nonprofit hospitals, including publication of the salaries of their top ten highest paid employees. HB 186 has been sent to the Governor.

Voting Machines

Georgia will vote differently in 2020. That is, citizens will find a different type of ballot marking machine inside the voting booth in the General Election. The legislature decided upon a new system that features a touch-screen machine that churns out a paper ballot which is then optically scanned. They also tweaked a few rules regarding voter registration, precinct closures and recounts. Gov. Kemp signed HB 316 on the evening of Sine Die.

Abortion

The Governor is expected to sign HB 481, a bill that prohibits abortion once a doctor can detect a fetal heartbeat, around six weeks gestation. The bill also directs that a fetus should be included in the census count and makes it eligible for a tax deduction. Based on what's happened in other states that have passed similar legislation, pundits are predicting law suits to be filed opposing the measure as soon as the Governor signs.

Medical Marijuana

Medical Marijuana has taken another step towards normalcy with the passage of a compromise bill -- HB 324. Patients in Georgia are already allowed to use cannabis oil for medical care, but have nowhere to legally purchase it. Under the new law it will be legal for a limited number of outlets, including the University of Georgia and Fort Valley State University, to cultivate plants and distribute low THC oil. Smoking marijuana is still not allowed. The bill is on the Governor's desk.

Hospital Provider Fee to Support Medicaid

HB 321 extended the Hospital provider fee that funnels approximately $1 billion into the Medicaid fund. The fee collects about $330 million for Georgia hospitals, money that is matched on a 2-1 ratio by the federal government. That enables Georgia hospitals that care for a lot of Medicaid patients to receive higher rates and presumably recoup their fees.

Telehealth Gets a Boost

Two bills to enhance telehealth services in the state passed. SB 115 and SB 118. The first lays out regulations for participation by out-of-state physicians, while the other requires health insurance companies to cover professionals on both ends of a telehealth consultation.

Tax Incentives to Move Jobs Into Rural Areas

HB 224 is a bill that deals with historic tax credits, but also provides tax incentives to businesses that provide jobs in tiered rural counties. This bill was closely vetted. By our count there were seven substitutes/amendments added along the way that made adjustments to the details of the incentives. It's fate is now up to the Governor.

Pentagon Requests Honored

The Pentagon asked Georgia legislators to pass four pieces of legislation designed to make life easier on troops and their families stationed in the state. The General Assembly passed the Psychology Interjurisdictional Compact (HB 26) and the Physical Therapy Licensure Compact (HB 39) making it easier for out-of-state medical providers to cross state lines and increase access to such services. They also passed a measure allowing the children of troops with orders relocating them to Georgia to register and attend schools ahead of the uniformed member's actual transfer. Another bill allows troops to drop contracts without penalty for things like cell phone or cable service when they are transferred out of state.

Multi-State Medical Providers are Popular

In addition to the two Pentagon-requested compacts mentioned above, two other bills passed that make it easier to cross state lines. SB 168 extended the sunset for Multistate Licensure of Nurses. Testimony in committees revealed that even center-of-the-state hospitals such as Macon's Navicent Health System have hundreds of nurses working under this program. SB 16 authorized the Georgia Composite Medical Board to administer the Interstate Medical Licensure Compact for all the professions under its jurisdiction.

Broadband Expansion Effort Passes Three Bills

Three different bills, SB 2, SB 17 and SB 66 took different tacks to increase the likelihood of pushing high speed broadband service into rural and underserved areas. The first allows Electric Membership Corporations to provide broadband service, the second gives the same permission to local telephone companies, and the third is intended to streamline the deployment of wireless broadband in the public rights of way. In addition, the FY 20 budget contains $2 million to support expanding high speed broadband to underserved areas.

Step Therapy Containment

Step therapy is a term for when insurance companies force a patient to fail one or more times on low-cost drugs, before they will pay for higher-cost, more effective drugs. HB 63 is a bill designed to make the process less difficult and less time-consuming for the patient.

Just Say No to Offshore Drilling

Pushback against the Trump administration is not an everyday thing at the Republican-controlled Georgia House, but it appears even many in the majority party felt like the feds had gone to meddling with their plans to do seismic testing and gas and oil exploration off the Georgia coast. HR 48 puts the House on record as opposing oil exploration as a danger to the fishing and tourism industry along the coast. It passed 125-36. Immediately after the vote, Congressman Buddy Carter of Savannah referenced the resolution in a letter opposing testing and drilling off Georgia's coast that he sent to the Acting Secretary of the Interior.

Shoreline Determination

And, speaking of the coast, HB 445, the Shoreline Protection Act, found its way to the Governor's desk. The bill allows the Department of Natural Resources to update the antiquated methodology used for pinpointing the technical edge of the shoreline. That point is used to determine legal setbacks for buildings, docks, walkways, etc. along the coast.

Tax That Guy Behind the Tree

It's estimated the state could generate an additional $86 million in revenues by changing the tax code to require "marketplace facilitators" (e.g. eBay, rideshare services, etc.) to collect sales tax in both retail and online settings. A measure to do so failed, but one that passed lowers the sales threshold from $250,000 to $100,000 for online retailers to collect and remit sales tax. The state auditor estimated that would bring in another $3.9 million in revenues.

Study Committees In Vogue

Study Committees are back in vogue at the legislature. Here's a list that passed and that you may hear more about over the interim period between sessions. (Okay, the last two are Commissions!)

HR 589, House Study Cmte on Maternal Mortality

HR 590, House Study Cmte on Barriers to Access to Adequate Health Care

HR 584, House Study Cmte on Exploring a Floor and Trade Charity Care System

HR 533, House Study Cmte on Innovative Financial Options for Senior Living

HR 591, House Study Cmte on Workforce Housing

SR 366, Senate Passenger Vehicle Seat Safety Belt Study Cmte.

SR 431, Senate Reducing Waste in Health Care Study Cmte.

SR 367, Senate Gaming and Pari-mutuel Wagering on Horse Racing and Growing Georgia's Equine Industry Study Cmte.

HB 514, Georgia Mental Health Reform and Innovation Commission. It's been given a wide berth to consider every aspect of Mental Health care and administration. And, its term does not end until June 20, 2023.

HR 37, Georgia Commission on Freight and Logistics. It was created because legislators say Georgia needs a comprehensive, strategic business plan to develop state-wide freight and logistics infrastructure in order to remain economically competitive.

Bills That Failed to Pass

Very few bills actually get voted down; More often, bills in trouble just don't receive a vote when it's anticipated they will fail. As this is the first of a two-year term, bills that don't pass but aren't actually defeated, return to their last committee assignment for consideration again next year.

Non-ATL Transit Revamp on Hold

HB 511, the rural transit legislation introduced by House Transportation Chairman Kevin Tanner, rumbled out of the House, but jumped the tracks in the Senate. The GDoT Board came out against the bill and Senators seemed adverse to the major changes it would have made to the existing transit structure. It remains in the Senate Transportation Cmte.

Fees Actually Dedicated to Intended Programs

The House passed a bill that would require fees collected on behalf of the state to be dedicated to the programs for which they were intended. The Senate changed the bill to impact only existing hazardous waste programs. HR 164, was never called up in the House for an agree/disagree motion, thus it maintains its "waiting to be called" posture until next year.

Airport Takeover and Jet Fuel Tax Exemption Falter

A bid to have the state take control over Atlanta's Hartsfield-Jackson International Airport won support in the Senate but couldn't get a vote in the House Transportation Cmte. Another high profile bill would have given Delta and other airlines an exemption on jet fuel sales taxes. It cleared the Senate but failed to pass out of the House Ways & Means Cmte. Both measures ended up on more than one bill, but none of them bought a ticket to the Governor's desk.

Casinos and Horse Racing Inch Closer

Both casino gambling and horse racing measures took a step closer than in previous years, but neither made it across the finish line. Casinos got a favorable vote in a House Cmte, but didn't make it through Rules for a floor vote. Horse Racing was approved by a Senate Cmte. but was not called up for a floor vote. These issues require companion legislation that puts the big question as a constitutional amendment on the general election ballot. A separate bill provides the operational detail. Both issues will be returned to their respective committees to await more favorable odds next year. Chairman Allen Powell (R-Hartwell) of the Regulated Industries Committee intends to hold hearings on gaming issues during the interim period between sessions.

Right to Repair and Sales Tax on Rental Equipment

Two bills that caught the attention of the business community received hearings in committee, but never got an up-or-down vote. The Right to Repair Act will be right where it started again next session. The same goes for the Sales Tax on Rental Equipment bill.

Tracking List

Here are the bills we are tracking. New activity is noted in red. Click on the Bill Number to access the current version of the bill.

Bills that are “DEAD” for the 2019 session failed to pass at least one chamber by the 28th day and are noted in green.

The 2019 Legislative Session is the first session of the 2019-2020 Term of the Georgia General Assembly. Therefore, bills not passed or defeated during this session will be carried over to the 2020 session. Bills pending in the House or Senate Rules Committees at adjournment sine die of the 2019 session will be recommitted to the committee from whence they came.

Governor Kemp has until May 12th to sign or veto passed legislation, or it becomes law without his signature.
